

ONE OF THE MOST DEDICATED AND GIFTED AFRICAN MISSIONARIES

JAMES MALINKI
OF MALAWI

Church Leader in
Cross-Cultural Ministry

JASPINE BILIMA

James Malinki (1893 – 1982) left his mold and model on the Seventh-day Adventist Church and other Christian denominations; in the planting of churches, establishing mission stations, and the economic transformation of communities wherever he worked in Africa. This volume, replete with photographs and maps, is the intriguing, analytical, historical-documentary biography of one of the most dedicated and gifted African missionaries. You will be inspired and challenged as you follow his life, methods of ministry, and achievements.

“Bilima is a very committed and able scholar and has done considerable research on the Church in central Africa. He has already published about a dozen books and this is certainly one of the most detailed and important. No study of the Adventist Church in Malawi, Zambia, Zaire, and Zimbabwe is complete without reference to this carefully researched volume.”

Russell L. Staples, Ph.D.

Professor Emeritus, World Mission, Andrews University

Jaspine Bilima is author of a dozen books and coaches aspiring authors in his Published in 90 Days Author Coach Program. He is a leadership training authority, president and speaker for Organize and Lead Better Seminars, a leadership training academy that develops leaders at local church level. He holds a doctoral degree in ministry and church leadership from Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan. He and his family live in Berrien Springs.
