

“The first question which the priest and the Levite asked was: ‘If I stop to help this man, what will happen to me?’ But . . . the good Samaritan reversed the question: ‘If I do not stop to help this man, what will happen to him?’”
—Martin Luther King, Jr.

HEALTH CARE CHAPLAINCY

A DOCTOR OF MINISTRY
CONCENTRATION
OFFERED BY

Andrews  University

WITH

LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY

THE DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

Health Care Chaplaincy Concentration

MISSION

To develop chaplains who manifest professional competency, academic excellence, professional leadership skills, spiritual/theological depth, clinical expertise, and the ability for self-reflection necessary for spiritual care within the clinical context.

COMPETENCIES

The health care chaplaincy concentration in the Andrews University Doctor of Ministry program seeks to create competency in five areas related to the discipline:

- 1 Academic: to help participants acquire knowledge of current issues and research related to the field of spirituality and health, engage the discipline through sociological and psychological perspectives, reflect theologically on the lived experience of patients, and learn basic research skills relating to the field of healthcare.
- 2 Spiritual and Theological Formation: to help participants integrate their spiritual and theological perspectives into the practice of ministry.
- 3 Clinical: to help participants acquire clinical skills pertinent to their practice in the field of chaplaincy and spiritual care within the context of healthcare.
- 4 Professional: to help participants gain knowledge of the professional field including spiritual leadership, consultation, networking, and ethical conduct.
- 5 Self-reflection: to help participants become aware of their strengths and limitations (background, emotional state) and to realize the impact self-awareness and self-understanding may have on ministry.
