PROGRAM & COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

Su programa de grado busca ayudarlo a lograr los Resultados de aprendizaje del programa básicos para su profesión elegida. Su resultado de aprendizaje del programa abordado principalmente en este curso es:

- MAPM: Demostrar habilidades apropiadas de interpretación bíblica.. (CLOs 1, 2, &3)

Los siguientes Resultados de aprendizaje del curso contribuyen a los Resultados de aprendizaje generales del programa al identificar los aprendizajes clave que se lograrán mediante el trabajo diligente en este curso.:

1. Elucidar la estructura y los temas principales de la Carta a los Hebreos y cómo se desarrollan y matizan dentro de la obra.

2. Descubrir cuál fue probablemente el significado de Hebreos para la audiencia original, que es obra del exégeta. Este trabajo se puede resumir como un intento de responder la siguiente pregunta, con respecto a Hebreos: “¿Qué sucedió realmente?” “¿Qué quería decir el autor?” Todo intento de responder a esta pregunta implica, al menos, las siguientes habilidades:

- a. Análisis de gramática y sintaxis.
- b. Análisis del contexto literario (incluidas las relaciones intertextuales).
- c. Análisis de palabras.
- d. Análisis de los contextos históricos y culturales.
- e. Evaluación de la literatura de investigación sobre el pasaje.

3. Sintetizar hallazgos exegéticos en un ensayo de 1000 a 2000 palabras (MDiv) o un trabajo final (MA y PhD).

4. Aplicar los conocimientos adquiridos a través del proceso exegético de las siguientes maneras:

- a. Relacionar los hallazgos con al menos otro aspecto de la teología adventista,
- b. Identificar al menos una implicación para la práctica del ministerio pastoral y
- c. para la vida personal del estudiante.

ATTENDANCE

Se requiere asistencia regular a todas las clases y otras citas académicas. Cuando el número total de ausencias exceda el 10% del total de las citas del curso, el maestro podrá asignar una calificación reprobatoria. El simple hecho de estar ausente del campus no exime al estudiante de esta política. Las ausencias registradas debido a registro tardío, suspensión y vacaciones anticipadas o tardías no se justifican. El trabajo de clase perdido se puede recuperar solo si el maestro lo permite. Tres tardanzas equivalen a una ausencia.

Incomplete Policy:

Please see the following guidelines from Academic Records:

- Grades are expected to be submitted at the end of the semester.
 - An incomplete can be submitted only when the majority of the work has been completed and the student has had an extenuating circumstance that did not allow completion of the work (usually medical/severe illness).
 - Given this policy, the student should be able to complete the outstanding work well within the one semester extension period.
- Remember, these students have already been allowed at least one semester beyond the end of semester grade deadline to complete the work (and more time than their peers were allowed.)
- We want to encourage completion, therefore, incomplete extensions should be extremely rare.
- If a student has not completed the work by the extension deadline, the earned grade should be entered and the student can re-register for the course in a subsequent semester.

Below is the Incomplete (I) policy from the AU Bulletin:

I—Incomplete. An Incomplete (I) can be assigned only if the following stipulations are met (Note: Students will be charged an incomplete fee for each incomplete grade issued):

- when the major portion of the work for the course has been completed
- student's work is incomplete because of illness or unavoidable circumstances
- incompletes cannot be assigned because of negligence or inferior performance.

Faculty must submit an incomplete contract which states:

1. the remaining work to be completed
2. a plan with timelines for completion of the work
3. the time limit

4. the grade the student will receive if the work is not completed by the agreed-upon time.

BIBLE SOFTWARE MINIMUM REQUIRED ESSENTIALS

All Biblical Language and Exegesis students are required to own either Accordance or Logos software containing at minimum:

BHS Hebrew Old Testament w. apparatus	Rahlfs's Greek Septuagint
Abridged BDB Hebrew Lexicon	NETS or Lexham English Septuagint translation
NA28 Greek New Testament w apparatus	New King James Version (NKJV)
Barclay-Newman Greek Lexicon	English Standard Version (ESV)

These are the 8 most valuable resources for in-depth biblical study made vastly more useful with the addition of computer searching capabilities.

MORE ABOUT SCHEDULE OF ASSIGNMENTS

This is an exegetical course that will help you understand and practice a careful, reasoned process to understand the meaning of the Letter to the Hebrews (what did the letter mean for the original recipients) and apply to personal life and ministry (what does the letter mean for us today). The class assignments will be divided in two great sections:

1. Weekly assignments to prepare for class. These assignments consist of reading and a report identifying three most useful ideas you found in your reading and three questions that were raised in your mind that you would like to consider.
2. Written assignments that will lead to an exegesis paper that you will present at the end of the semester.

If you want to learn more why Hebrews makes this course very exciting, see Appendix 2: “Why Hebrews.”

The schedule to submit the assignments is the following:

October 6, 2023*:

14 Class preparation reports (see Course Overview [above] and Appendix 3)

7 Text Preparation Reports (see Course Overview [above] and Appendix 8)

Reports submitted after Sunday October 8 (3:00 pm) lose 30% of the credit

October 11, 2023:

Passage selection and Evaluation of research literature (see Appendices 4 & 5)

October 19, 2023:

Analysis of Historical and cultural contexts (see Appendix 9)

October 30, November 13, and November 27 (5:00 pm EST):

Meetings with professor for guidance on paper.

November 30, 2023:

Exegesis paper (see Appendix 10)

TIME EXPECTATIONS FOR THE COURSE

US Credit-Hour Regulations

For every semester credit, the Andrews University credit hour definition requires that:

- Courses for professional masters’ degrees (e.g. MDiv) include 15 instructor contact hours and 30 hours of independent learning activities.
- Courses for academic masters’ (e.g. MA [Religion]) and all doctoral degrees include 15 instructor contact hours, and 45 hours of independent learning activities.

The calculation of hours is based on the study skills of the average well-prepared graduate student. Students weak in these skills: 1) may require more time and should consider taking fewer classes each semester; and 2) can find skill development assistance through the Seminary Study and Research Skills Colloquia, the AU Writing Center, and AU Student Success office.

In order to achieve the outcomes of this course, learning time will be distributed as follows:

		Professional Masters' Programs
		2 Credits	3 Credits
Instructor Contact Hours	Face to Face Instructional Time	38 hrs	38 hrs
	3 meetings with professor by zoom for guidance on paper	6 hr	6 hr
Independent Learning Activities	Class preparation reading (Class Preparation Report; see Appendix 3)	13 hrs	28 hrs
	Passage Selection and Evaluation of research literature on the passage (see Appendices 4 & 5)	Not required	5 hrs
	Text Preparation Analysis (7 texts total, see Appendix 8)	15	15
	Analysis of historical and cultural contexts (see Appendix 9)	5 hrs	5 hrs
	Exegesis Paper (see Appendix 10) MAPM 3-credit: 10–12 pages (2500–3000 words)	10 hrs	35 hrs
	Bible Software lab (see Appendix 11)	2 hr	2 hr
Total Hours:		90	135

SDATS GUIDELINES FOR CALCULATING ASSIGNMENT LOADS

Average reading speed: 15-20 pages/hour for light reading not to be tested on 10-15 pages/hour for heavy reading for exams
 Writing time: 2.5 – 3 hours/double spaced page, from start to finished product
 Reflective Writing Assignment: 0.5 hour per page
 An Online Assignment Load Calculator is available at: www.cte.rice.edu/workload/

GUIDELINES FOR COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

Grades are based on the independent learning activities below which provide practice toward, and assessment of, the learning outcomes of this course. The grade weighting for each assignment is provided in the right-hand column. Specific due dates are given in the Course Overview above.

Assignment Description	Weighting
Preparation for Class	45%

- Preparation for class Report (See Appendix 3) (Due Every Monday by 10:00 pm)	30%
- Text Preparation Analysis (See Appendix 4) (Due Every Monday by 10:00 pm)	15%
Exegesis		50%
- Passage selection (See Appendix 4) and Review of Research Literature (See Appendix 5)	5%
- Analysis of historical and cultural contexts (See Appendix 9)	5%
- Essay / Exegesis paper (See Appendix 10)	40%
General Requirements		5%
- Class Attendance and Participation in in-class activities	3%
- Bible Software Lab (Logos/Accordance) (See Appendix 12)	2%
TOTAL		100%

* For grading rubrics that specify grading criteria in more detail, see Appendices. In order to make grading fair for everyone, grades will be assigned on the basis of the above requirements alone. No individual arrangements will be made for those requesting last minute grade adjustment or extra credit.

Submission of Assignments

Assignments are to be turned in on Learning Hub before the beginning of the class period at which they are due (unless otherwise announced).

Late Submission

Because student assignments are an essential part of class activities, assignments turned in after the time they are due will be worth a maximum of 60% of possible points. Any requests for extra time on an assignment must be made in advance with the professor. Such requests should be a rarity and should be accompanied by a valid reason.

Resubmission of Assignments

There is no resubmission of assignments.

ABOUT YOUR INSTRUCTOR

Félix H. Cortez es profesor de literatura del Nuevo Testamento en el Seminario Teológico Adventista del Séptimo Día, Universidad Andrews, Berrien Springs, Michigan. Completó su maestría en Literatura Moderna (con énfasis en Teoría Literaria y Hermenéutica) en la Universidad Iberoamericana (México, 2001) y su doctorado en Estudios del Nuevo Testamento en Andrews University (2008). Antes de venir a la Universidad Andrews, Cortez enseñó en la Escuela de Teología de la Universidad de Montemorelos (2007–2013). También se ha desempeñado como pastor en la Ciudad de México durante 4 años y como director de jóvenes de la conferencia durante 7 años. Fue ordenado ministro en Montemorelos, Nuevo León, México, en 1996.

Cortez fue presidente de la Sociedad Teológica Adventista de 2014 a 2016. También presidió la Sección de Epístolas Católicas y Pastorales de la Reunión Internacional de la Sociedad de Literatura Bíblica de 2010 a 2016. Se ha desempeñado como miembro de los equipos de acreditación de la Asociación de Escuelas Teológicas y de la Asociación Adventista de Acreditación, como profesor invitado en universidades de América del Sur, Interamérica y Asia, y ha predicado y dictado conferencias en más de 50 países. También es el productor ejecutivo y presentador de la serie de videos “Fieles a las Escrituras” (Sociedad Teológica Adventista), y de “Fe y Vida” (Hope Channel).

Cortez ha publicado más de 50 artículos y capítulos de libros, incluidas publicaciones académicas y no académicas en Asia, Europa, América del Norte y América del Sur. Contribuyó con notas de estudio sobre 4 libros bíblicos para la Biblia de estudio de Andrews y el comentario sobre Primera de Timoteo para el Comentario bíblico de un volumen de Andrews. También es autor de varios libros, los más recientes, Dentro del Velo: La Ascensión del Hijo en la Carta a los Hebreos, en la serie Estudios de Literatura Judía y Cristiana (Fontes, 2020) y Dios Proveerá: Diezmos, Ofrendas y Nuestra vida espiritual (Asociación de Publicaciones de la División Interamericana, 2021). También es el autor de la Guía de estudio para adultos de la Escuela Sabática ASD “En estos últimos días: el mensaje de Hebreos”, que se utilizó para el primer trimestre de 2022.

Cortez está casado con Alma Gloria Alvarez Yanes y tienen dos hijos, Hadid (pastor en la Conferencia de Nueva Jersey) y Alma (estudiante de doctorado en la Universidad de Nueva York). Le gustan los deportes, caminar, trabajar la madera, leer y la música.

OTHER COURSE-RELATED POLICIES

Academic Integrity

The El Seminario espera que sus estudiantes exhiban una integridad moral rigurosa apropiada para los líderes del ministerio que representan a Jesucristo. La honestidad completa en asuntos académicos es un componente vital de dicha integridad. Cualquier violación de la integridad académica en esta clase está sujeta a medidas disciplinarias. Las consecuencias pueden incluir recibir una calificación reducida o reprobatoria, suspensión o despido del curso, suspensión o despido del programa, expulsión de la universidad o cancelación del título. La acción disciplinaria puede ser retroactiva si la deshonestidad académica se hace evidente después de que el estudiante abandona el curso, programa o universidad. El Consejo de Integridad Académica de Estudiantes Universitarios mantiene un registro de las violaciones de la integridad académica. Las ofensas repetidas y/o flagrantes serán remitidas a un Panel de Integridad Académica para recomendaciones sobre sanciones adicionales.

La deshonestidad académica incluye:

- Plagio en el que uno no da crédito cada vez que se hace uso de las ideas o palabras exactas de otra persona, ya sea en un documento formal o en notas o tareas enviadas. El crédito se otorgará mediante el uso de:
 - o Notas al pie correctamente diseñadas e insertadas cada vez que se hace uso de la investigación y/o ideas de otra persona; y
 - o Comillas colocadas alrededor de frases u oraciones exactas (3 o más palabras) tomadas del texto o discurso de otra persona.
- Presentar el trabajo de otra persona como propio (p. ej., exámenes de ubicación, tareas asignadas);
- Usar materiales durante una prueba o examen que no sean los permitidos explícitamente por el maestro o el programa;
- Robar, aceptar o estudiar de cuestionarios o materiales de examen robados;
- Copiar de otro estudiante durante una prueba o cuestionario regular o para llevar a casa;
- Ayudar a otro en actos de deshonestidad académica
- Presentar el mismo trabajo o partes importantes del mismo, sin permiso de los instructores, para satisfacer los requisitos de más de un curso.

Emergency Protocol

Andrews University takes the safety of its student seriously. Signs identifying emergency protocol are posted throughout buildings. Instructors will provide guidance and direction to students in the classroom in the event of an emergency affecting that specific location. It is important that you follow these instructions and stay with your instructor during any evacuation or sheltering emergency.

Please Note: The instructor reserves the right to revise the syllabus, with the consensus of the class, at any time during the semester for the benefit of the learning process. The up-to-date Course Description for this course may be found at www.learninghub.andrews.edu.

APPENDIX 1: INTERPRETING LETTER GRADES

Letter Grades and Percentages

Insert the grade scale used for this course. For example:

95-100%	A	80-84%	B	65-69%	C
90-94%	A-	75-79%	B-	60-64%	C-
85-89%	B+	70-74%	C+	55-59%	D

THE B GRADE

The B grade is a sign that you have competently fulfilled all of the requirements stipulated for an assessment or competency evaluation. It is a very good grade and demonstrates a high level of the knowledge, insight, critical competence and professional presentation standards essential for an individual wishing to pursue a career as a professional leader in ministry.

THE A GRADE

An A grade is given only when a student not only fulfills the criteria for a B grade, but in doing so demonstrates an advanced academic aptitude for content knowledge, critique, synthesis and independent insight, while exhibiting highly developed communication skills and professional publication standards that would allow them to pursue a highly competitive academic career.

THE C GRADE

The C grade differs only from a B grade in that the traits outlined in the B grade above are not consistently applied. However, with diligence and by applying feedback from your lecturer, the academic process can provide opportunity for a student to improve their consistency, and hence, their grade.

THE D GRADE

The D grade points to a limited level of knowledge, insight, and critique, as well as to inadequate quality of written work. This may be because of a lack of time management on the part of the student, difficulty grasping the concepts being taught, use of English as a second language, or a personal issue that is affecting one's concentration and motivation levels. Again, with diligence, applying feedback from your lecturer, and seeking services offered by the University like the writing lab or the counseling center, the academic process can provide an opportunity for a student to significantly improve their performance.

THE F GRADE

A failing grade is given when very limited or no demonstrable competency has been observed.

APPENDIX 2: WHY HEBREWS?

“El documento conocido como la Epístola a los Hebreos es el texto más elegante y sofisticado, y quizás el más enigmático, del cristianismo del primer siglo... una obra maestra de la homilética retórica cristiana primitiva”. En el idioma original, la prosa de esta epístola es elegante, a menudo rítmica. Abundancia de figuras retóricas y variedad de metáforas adornan su argumentación. Su vocabulario es el más rico y variado entre los documentos del Nuevo Testamento. Sin embargo, no es solo su belleza y sofisticación lo que ha intrigado y fascinado a los eruditos bíblicos, sino la profundidad de su teología y el misterio que la rodea.

Hebreos presenta un impresionante análisis teológico de quién es Jesús, qué significó su muerte y qué está haciendo después de su ascensión, y una poderosa exhortación, a veces perturbadora, a una vida de fe frente al desánimo y el malestar. Durante los debates trinitarios de los siglos cuarto y quinto, Hebreos se convirtió en un bastión de la ortodoxia. Su majestuosa cristología presenta a Jesús como uno igual a Dios, “la huella exacta del mismo ser de Dios” (Heb. 1:3 NRSV) que gobierna sobre el “mundo venidero” (2:5), y un verdadero ser humano, que compartió “carne y sangre” (2:14) y fue tentado “en todo” para convertirse en el sumo sacerdote celestial (4:14–16).

La exhortación a una vida de fe es contundente. Contiene la definición de fe más famosa (11:1), la lista más célebre de ejemplos de fe (11:2–12:4) y probablemente la advertencia más fuerte contra la apostasía (6:4–8; 10:26–31; 12:25–29) en la Biblia. La descripción de los creyentes como pueblo de Dios en peregrinación a la patria celestial es esclarecedora e inspiradora (3:7–4:11; 10:35–12:13).

Para los adventistas del séptimo día, la Epístola a los Hebreos tiene un significado inusual. Como pueblo que espera la segunda venida de Jesús y observa el sábado del séptimo día, Hebreos les habla con una voz distintiva. El autor confronta a los lectores con el mensaje de que están viviendo en los “últimos días”, y que en este momento crucial de la historia Dios “les ha hablado” “en Su Hijo” (1:2, NASB). Les recuerda a sus lectores una y otra vez que el juicio se avecina en el horizonte y que el destino se decidirá de acuerdo con la respuesta que los lectores den al mensaje escuchado (12:25–28; cf. 2:1–4; 4:12–13). Es este sentido de urgencia lo que revela el verdadero carácter del documento, su propósito esencial. Así, el mismo autor la describe como una “palabra de exhortación” (13,22); es decir, tanto una palabra de aliento como de advertencia. El autor también explica con claridad y tono apremiante cuál es la verdadera naturaleza del descanso sabático del séptimo día en la era del evangelio (4:1–11).

La Epístola a los Hebreos habla también de otras creencias importantes de los Adventistas del Séptimo Día. Es el único documento del Nuevo Testamento que se refiere explícitamente a Jesús como sumo sacerdote y explica su ministerio en el santuario celestial. Hebreos también analiza la perpetuidad de la ley de Dios en vista del sacrificio perfecto de Jesús en la cruz (7:1–10:18). Proporciona una afirmación sólida de la creación del universo por parte de Dios, incluida la afirmación más famosa de la Biblia (11:2). También defiende la unidad de ambos testamentos al citar la Biblia hebrea más que cualquier otro libro del Nuevo Testamento.

Sin embargo, Hebreos está envuelto en misterio. Después de casi dos milenios de estudio, los académicos no se pondrán de acuerdo sobre la respuesta a seis de sus preguntas más básicas: ¿quién lo escribió? ¿A quién fue escrito? ¿Cuándo fue escrito? ¿Es una carta o un sermón? ¿Cuál es su estructura? ¿Cómo debemos entender su lenguaje simbólico? La desconcertante variedad de teorías que se han originado a partir de este acertijo solo profundiza en nosotros la sensación de que la respuesta final está fuera de nuestro alcance.

La Epístola a los Hebreos, sin embargo, es más que un enigma por resolver. Aunque la cuestión histórica debe abordarse y resolverse hasta cierto punto para que el mensaje tenga algún sentido, este comentario no aborda la Epístola a los Hebreos como una especie de cubo de Rubik literario, un rompecabezas histórico de seis caras. Su tarea no puede reducirse a sugerir la combinación ganadora que alinearía las seis caras en perfecta simetría. En cambio, considera este intrigante documento como un tesoro en el que podemos haber entrado sin darnos cuenta o, mejor, heredado como parte de las Escrituras. Es posible que no sepamos quién lo escondió en el campo del Nuevo Testamento en primer lugar o quiénes fueron los beneficiarios originales, pero tan pronto como reconozcamos su valor, no estaremos dispuestos a dejarlo ir.

Sin embargo, poseer el tesoro tiene sus propios costos. Aunque valioso para nosotros, fue creado en una época y una cultura que no son las nuestras. Hebreos habla de los desafíos del rechazo, el cansancio y la disminución de la fe que los cristianos han enfrentado a lo largo de los siglos y continúan enfrentando hoy (10:32–12:13); sin embargo, su lenguaje de sacrificio, purificación y sacerdocio, entre otros, es extraño para nosotros. Puede que no sea posible dilucidar satisfactoriamente el significado de algunos pasajes difíciles, pero solo dejarlos abiertos..

APPENDIX 3: PREPARATION FOR CLASS REPORT

Cada semana el estudiante se preparará para la clase (1) completando las lecturas asignadas enumeradas en el esquema del curso y (c) entregando (a través de Learning Hub) un informe para esa semana.

El informe vence el domingo 8 de octubre a las 3:00 pm. Cualquier informe recibido después de este tiempo perderá el 30% de su calificación.

El procedimiento y formato para su informe de lectura es el siguiente: indique su nombre, la información bibliográfica, las páginas leídas y el tiempo dedicado a la lectura. Responda las preguntas solicitadas para ese informe específico (consulte el centro de aprendizaje) o, si no hay preguntas, escriba las 3 cosas más importantes que aprendió y las 3 preguntas que tiene de lo que leyó. Asegúrese de guardar una copia de su informe para incluirlo en el portafolio de su clase. Usa tus pensamientos y reflexiones para compartir con la clase.

| 1. Información (nombre, bibliografía, páginas leídas y tiempo dedicado) | 30% |
| 2. 3 cosas aprendidas y 3 preguntas para la clase | 70% |

APPENDIX 4: PASSAGE SELECTION

Instructions:

The purpose of this assignment is to help the student select a good passage on which to do his/her exegesis. This is a very important decision because all the rest of the assignments will be done in relation to this passage. If the student selects a good passage, his experience doing exegesis will be very fruitful and most rewarding.

A good exegesis passage has the following characteristics:

1. There is uncertainty regarding what that passage, or an element of it, meant for the original readers. (The student can also argue that a passage, over which there is currently no mayor uncertainty regarding its original meaning, had actually a different meaning.)
2. The meaning of the passage is intimately related to the argument of the paragraph or section in which it is located.
3. The meaning of the passage is intimately connected to an important element of the theology (or teaching) of Hebrews as a whole.
4. The original meaning of that passage is relevant to believers today.

A good exegetical question has the following characteristics:

1. It is a question about the original, historical meaning, not about the contemporary meaning or application.
2. It is concrete. In other words you can provide a concrete answer to it.
3. It is carefully though not radically limited. (For example, in the article Felix H. Cortez, “Creation in Hebrews” AUSS 53 (2015): 279–320, which you analyzed in the previous unit, the general exegetical question is “What does the letter to the Hebrews say about the creation of our world?” Nevertheless, the exegesis of every particular passage chooses more specific exegetical questions. Underline them and study them as an example of what an exegetical question is.)

After reading twice the whole letter to the Hebrews, the student will select a passage and an exegetical research question and will answer the following questions:

1. What is the research passage that you selected? (5 points)

2. What is the exegetical research question? (5 points)

3. What is the general argument of the paragraph in which the passage is located and how did you establish the limits of that paragraph? (5 points) (Provide support from a scholarly source for the definition of the limits of the paragraph, e.g., a mayor commentary, or the NA28 edition or UBS5 edition of the Greek New Testament)

4. How do commentaries and articles answer the question you are arguing? (10 points)

5. To what teaching or teachings of Hebrews is your research related to? (5 points)

6. Why is the outcome of your research relevant for believers today? (5 points)

Total ___/35

APPENDIX 5: REVIEW OF RESEARCH LITERATURE ON THE PASSAGE

Instructions:

The purpose of this assignment is to help the student understand, organize, and reflect upon what does the secondary literature say about the research question that he or she has chosen.

The student will find 5 or more research based scholarly sources that discuss the problem he or she has chosen for his/her exegetical research. These should include at least one of each of the following: a peer-reviewed journal (you may find these in ATLA and EBSCO research databases in the library website) and a scholarly commentary. A monograph would be a very good addition but is not required.

The student will describe what the solution is that these sources suggest for his research question and discuss briefly their strengths and weaknesses. The student will finish his literature review with a reflection on how this exercise has helped him improve his research question.

A good literature review paper would have the following characteristics:

1. Gathers information from a variety of research-based sources. This literature review should include at least one of each of the following: a peer-reviewed journal and a scholarly commentary. A monograph would be very desirable as well but is not required.
2. The organization of the review follows a logical sequence and structure. The different positions are organized in coherent groups.
3. Critical thinking. The student discusses the strengths and weaknesses of each position.
4. Reflection on research question. The literature review focuses on the research question and helps to improve it. As the student understands what the secondary literature has said about an exegetical problem, he or she should improve his research question by using better concepts and definitions, further refine it, in some cases by widening its scope, etc.
5. Reference format. The bibliographic references strictly follow the Turabian Style. (See Andrews University Standards for Written work)
6. Follows Andrews University Standards for Written Work.
7. 1-3 grammatical errors.

Answer the following questions:

1. What passage did I select and what is the research question?

2. How many positions are there regarding my research question? (10 points)

3. What are the strengths and weaknesses of each of the positions? (20 points)

Position 1

Position 2

Position 3

4. What are the main issues that have to be resolved regarding the meaning of this passage? (for example, grammar, contextual, cultural, historical, words, etc.) (15 points)

5. After doing this research, review and refocus your research question. How would you define your research question now? (10 points)

6. After doing this research, review and refocus the purpose of your paper. Why do you think your research matters? (5 points)

Total ___/60

APPENDIX 6: ANALYSIS OF GRAMMAR AND SYNTAX

Instructions:

The purpose of this assignment is to help you identify aspects of the grammar and syntax of your passage that are problematic, significant and need further discussion. For further information on what is involved, how to do it, and what sources are available for grammar analysis, read Gordon D. Fee, New Testament Exegesis: A Handbook for Students and Pastors (3rd ed.; Louisville, Ky.: Westminster John Knox, 2002), 71-78.

You will do the analysis on the following order:

1. Borders: Identify the sentence that will be the focus of your analysis. (Periods divide complete sentences in the Greek New Testament NA28 and UBS5.) (5 points)
2. Distribute all the words (one word per column) into the format provided in the next page.
3. Define the usage of every word following closely the descriptions in Daniel B. Wallace, Greek Grammar beyond the Basics: An Exegetical Syntax of the New Testament [Grand Rapids, Mich.: Zondervan, 1996]. (10 Points)
4. Identify and discuss briefly in the bottom those words that are significant for the meaning of the passage and require further discussion. (10 points)
5. Provide a preliminary translation of the passage alternating one line of Greek text with an English translation. (10 points)
6. Answer the following questions (50 points):
 - a. Are there any grammatical elements that are ambiguous or that can be interpreted in more than one way? (10 points)

- b. Are there any words that have more than one meaning that impact the meaning of the passage? (10 points)

- c. Are there any textual variants in my texts? If there are which variant am I supporting and why? (10 points)

d. What position is your translation supporting? What position is your translation detracting from? Why? (20 points)

WORD ANALYSIS

Instructions:

The purpose of this assignment is to help to understand “as precisely as possible what the author was trying to convey” by his use of a word in a specific context. Please read carefully Gordon D. Fee, New Testament Exegesis: A Handbook for Students and Pastors (3rd ed.; Louisville, Ky.: Westminster John Knox, 2002), 79-95.

You will follow this process:

1. Word: Select a word in your passage that requires special study.
2. Range of meaning: with the help of a good lexicon establish the range of meanings, that is, the different ways in which this word is used.
 - a. The best lexicon is BDAG = Bauer, W., F. W. Danker, W. F. Arndt, and F. W. Gingrich. Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament and Other Early Christian Literature. 3d ed. Chicago, 1999.
3. With the help of a couple of theological dictionaries (see Fee on this; a very good recent theological dictionary is Moisés Silva, ed. The New International Dictionary of New Testament Theology and Exegesis, [5 vols., Grand Rapids, Mich.: Zondervan, 2014]), explain the following:
 - a. The use of the word in the rest of Hebrews.
 - b. The use of the word in the rest of the New Testament.
 - c. The use of the word in the LXX, Pseudepigrapha, Philo, Josephus, the papyri, Greco-Roman Literature.
 - d. The etymology of the word and whether this has any importance for your passage (see caution by Fee on this step.)
4. With a careful analysis of the context of your passage (the paragraph) and its teaching (or theology) establish which use (meaning) is the most likely for the passage you are studying.
5. Write a short paper (900-1100 words) where you describe your conclusion and explain the rationale behind it. The paper should have the following characteristics:
 - a. Structure:
 - i. An introduction where you describe the word you chose, the passage where it is found, and why that word is significant for the passage (related to item “1” above). (5 points)
 - ii. A second section where you describe the range of meaning of the word (see item “2” above) and what you think is the meaning of the word in that specific passage (see item “4” above) and the suggested translation of the passage. (5 points)
 - iii. A third section (body of the paper) where you describe the arguments that support your conclusion (you can use information gathered in item “3” above). (15 points)
 - iv. The conclusion of the paper (the fourth section) will summarize your view on the meaning of the word in the specific passage, repeat the suggested translation, and explain briefly the implications this has for the understanding of Hebrews and/or its theology. (10 points)

- b. Reference format. The bibliographic references strictly follow the Turabian Style. (See Andrews University Standards for Written work) (5 points)
- c. Length 900-1100 words. (5 points)
- d. Follows Andrews University Standards for Written Work. (5 points)
- e. 1-5 grammatical errors. (5 points)

Total ___/55

PARAGRAPH/LITERARY ANALYSIS

Instructions:

The purpose of this assignment is to help visualize the structures of your paragraph and the flow of the argument.

Please read carefully Richard J. Erickson, A Beginner's Guide to New Testament Exegesis: Taking the Fear Out of Critical Method (Ann. Ed.; Downers Grove, Ill.: IVP Academic, 2005), 57–92.

You will do the analysis on the following order:

1. Borders: Confirm the borders of the paragraph from a trusted source (use the Greek New Testament edition NA28 or UBS5, and/or a scholarly commentary based on the Greek text). (5 points)
 - a. Please note that this paragraph must be the paragraph to which your research passage belongs. (See Appendix 3) Remember that all the assignments are designed to help you build step by step the argument for your exegetical paper.
2. Clauses: Identify verbs, participles and infinitives and divide the text into clauses (each clause has a verb, participle, or an infinitive. For a definition of clauses see Daniel B. Wallace, Greek Grammar beyond the Basics: An Exegetical Syntax of the New Testament [Grand Rapids, Mich.: Zondervan, 1996], 656-665). (10 Points)
3. Conjunctions: Identify every conjunction and define what is its role and define its translation (see Wallace, 666-678). (10 points)
4. Subordination: Indent all the subordinate clauses. (10 points)
5. Argument: Trace the argument by adding subtitles to the sections of the paragraph. Define what is the main idea (there could be more than one) and how they are supported, contradicted, refined, developed, etc. (10 points)
6. Structural signs: Color code recurrent words, ideas, parallel constructions, contrasts, progressions, etc. (15 points)
7. Exegetical payoff: Describe in what ways your findings help you understand better your passage. (10 points)
8. Answer the following questions (50 points):
 - a. What is the argument of the section? What is the author trying to say? (10 points)

- b. How does the author structure his/her argument? (How many arguments does he use or what are the elements of the section, how are they organized? (10 points)

c. What are the main ideas or concepts developed in the passage? (10 points)

d. What is the function of my research passage in the greater paragraph or section? (20 points)

e. What is the function of the paragraph or section where my research passage is found in the argument of the book? (20 points)

POSITIVE EXHORTATION

[Assertion of confidence in the audience]

Heb. 6:9 Though we speak in this way, yet in your case, beloved, we feel sure of better things—things that belong to salvation.

[Reason for confidence]

¹⁰ For ^zGod is not unjust so as to overlook ^ayour work and the love that you have shown for his name in ^bserving the saints, as you still do.

[Request to the audience: Show earnestness (cf. 5:11)]

¹¹ And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance ^cof hope until the end,

[Purpose of request]

¹² so that you may not be sluggish, but ^dimitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

[Illustration and Basis of request: God's promise to Abraham was guaranteed with an oath]

Heb. 6:13 For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he had no one greater by whom to swear, ^ehe swore by himself, ¹⁴ saying, ^f“Surely I will bless you and multiply you.”

[The promise was fulfilled]

¹⁵ and thus Abraham,² ^ghaving patiently waited, obtained the promise.

[Have faith in God's oath to us]

[Importance of oaths]

¹⁶ For people swear by something greater than themselves, and in all their disputes ^han oath is final for confirmation.

[Purpose of God's oath: to show the firmness of His purpose]

¹⁷ So when God desired to show more convincingly to ⁱthe heirs of the promise ^jthe unchangeable character of his purpose,

[God made an oath to us]

^khe guaranteed it with an oath,

[Purpose of God's oath: That we have a strong encouragement]

¹⁸ so that by two unchangeable things, in which ^lit is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to hold fast to the hope ^mset before us.

[That Oath is secured on God's throne]

¹⁹ We have this as a sure and steadfast anchor of the soul, a hope that enters into ⁿthe inner place behind the curtain,

[God made an oath to us]

²⁰ where Jesus has gone ^oas a forerunner on our behalf, ^phaving become a high priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

APPENDIX 9: ANALYSIS OF HISTORICAL AND CULTURAL CONTEXTS

Instructions:

There are two purposes for this paper. The first purpose is to help you understand the historical and cultural context of your passage and how it affects its meaning. The second purpose is to help you collaborate with fellow students in a group effort that occurs online and uses online tools for communication and collaboration. I am going to talk about first about the nature and characteristics of the paper and the presentation and how they will be graded. Then, I will talk about how the collaboration will happen.

Instructions for the paper:

Please read carefully Craig A. Evans, Ancient Texts for New Testament Studies: A Guide to the Background Literature (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 2005), Appendix 2.

The student will find 4 or more research based scholarly sources that address historical and cultural aspects of the passage he or she has chosen for exegetical research. These should include at least one of each of the following: (1) a good biblical dictionary, (2) a scholarly introduction to the backgrounds of the New Testament, (3) a peer-reviewed journal (you may find these in ATLA and EBSCO research databases in the library webpage), (4) a scholarly commentary or a monograph.

For students

The topic could be in any of the following areas (choose one):

- a. Historical background: The student would choose one of the decades related to Hebrews (e.g., 40s, 50s, 60s, 70s, 80s, 90s). This should be an overview of events both in the Jewish and Greco-Roman worlds.
- b. Social background: The student would choose one topic from the social issues related to his/her passage in Hebrews. These are the general areas of social background: Social classes, military, slavery, law, morality, economics, entertainment, language, art/architecture, clubs and associations, etc.
- c. Religious background: Choose one topic from religious issues related to his/her passage in Hebrews. It could be one of the following: Jewish beliefs, parties, sects, practices and institutions; Hellenistic religions, cults, beliefs, practices.
- d. Philosophical background: Choose one topic from philosophical issues related to his/her passage in Hebrews. It could be one of the following: stoicism, epicureanism, middle Platonism, etc; Sadducees, Essenes, or the Pharisees could be included here.

A good historical-cultural analysis has the following characteristics:

1. Uses and quotes high quality sources (see Gordon Fee on this). Specially prized are reference to and analysis of primary sources, that is, works that were written around the time of the New Testament (e.g., Philo, Josephus, Pseudepigrapha, papiry, Seneca, etc.) . (10 points)
2. Quality content: Covers appropriately the information for the topic, focuses on the 1st century, is sensitive to the historical development of social and cultural phenomena, and is aware of lacunae in our knowledge. (20 points)
3. Exegetical payoff: Chooses a topic that is significant for the passage, shows how the background information helps understand better the passage, and makes a clear connection between the passage and the background information. (20 points)
4. Consistent style.

- a. Length 900-1100 words. (5 points)
 - b. Follows Andrews University Standards for Written Work (Turabian Style). (5 points)
 - c. Clear redaction and few grammatical errors. (5 points)
5. Answer the following questions (50 points):

a. What kind of background did you choose and why? (10 points)

b. What primary sources did you find and why are they applicable to your research? (10 points)

c. Are there different interpretations of the primary sources? Which did you choose and why? (10 points)

d. How did the background research impacted the understanding of your passage? (20 points)

Total ___/105

APPENDIX 10: EXEGESIS PAPER

Instructions:

This paper is the culmination of all the work that you have done in this course. All the small papers with the different analyses you have made should inform this paper.

The purpose of the paper is to explain what the passage meant for the original readers. It is historical in nature.

The paper will have the following characteristics:

1. Format: Follows Andrews University Standards for Written Work and the Turabian Style.
2. Length: see instructions above according to credit hours.
3. Bibliography: 10 or more quality, research-based sources.
4. Suggested outline (please use the “paper template” I have offered after the rubric):
 - a. Introduction: Includes the research question and why that question is important
 - b. Survey of Literature: Describes the different solutions given to the research question
 - c. Thesis statement: Describes in explicit and clear terms the solution suggested by the author
 - d. Arguments: The author supports his interpretation with exegetical arguments (paragraph analysis, grammar and syntax analysis, word analysis, historical and cultural background, etc.)
 - e. Conclusion: Summarizes the argument, identifies the implications of the research (personal, for the church, for further research, etc.).

The paper has a total of 65 possible points and it will be graded according to the rubric in the next page.

APPENDIX 11: HOW DO SOFTWARE LABS WORK?

As an integral part of all Hebrew and Greek language courses, as well as all OT and NT exegesis courses, students are provided with labs on Learning Hub (learninghub.andrews.edu) that teach them how to use their Bible Software for Biblical language and exegesis work. The labs are available for both Accordance and Logos. Students are required to pass the quiz associated with each lab on Learning Hub. Each quiz tests the skills covered in the lab and is worth 3% of the associated language or exegesis course grade. Students may take the labs as many times as they wish.

The following table shows the different labs that are required by the different courses:

Lab No	Lab Topics	Hebrew I, Beg. Greek	Hebrew II, Intermed. Greek	OT Exegesis, NT Exegesis
1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Creating Workspaces • Browsing and Annotating Texts (highlighting, note writing, annotation syncing, looking up lexical meaning) 	LAB REQUIRED	Skills taught in lab 1 are necessary for lab 2 and the lab 2 quiz.	Skills taught in lab 1 are necessary for lab 3 and the lab 3 quiz.
2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Accessing morphological information • Accessing syntactical information (Syntactical skills are not quizzed.) 		LAB REQUIRED	Skills taught in lab 2 are necessary for lab 3 and the lab 3 quiz.
3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Searching morphology and lexemes (simple and complex) • Searching Syntax (Syntactical skills are not quizzed.) 			LAB REQUIRED
4	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organizing and Searching one's Library • Using the dedicated Mobile Apps and Cloud services of Logos and Accordance 			Lab Optional

Labs

A separate lab will be offered for each type of Bible Software. In this way, Accordance users do not get confused by training that relates to Logos and vice versa. In order to have students not only learn to use their Bible Software, but also experience its added value for research and sermon preparation, the workshops will showcase exegetically relevant scenarios. Queries will be put together that actually yield meaningful results for the process of interpretation.

Labs for Language Courses

During the semester in which students are taking their first beginning language course (Hebrew I or Beginning Greek), they are expected to view the version of Lab 1 relating to that language. They are required to take and pass the quiz for Lab 1 before the end of the semester, demonstrating that they are able to use their software at a beginning level for study in that language. If, or when, they take the beginning language course in the second biblical language, they are then required to pass the Lab 1 quiz for that language. Students are invited to view the version of Lab 1 for this second language in order to prepare for this second quiz.

Students who are taking the intermediate language courses (Hebrew II and/or Intermediate Greek) are to follow the same process using Lab 2 and the associated Hebrew quiz and Greek quiz. If a student tests out of a beginning language course, they may take only the quiz for Lab 2. However, this quiz is cumulative and tests the skills learned in both Lab 1 and Lab 2, so the student will likely want to complete both labs before taking the quiz.

Labs for Exegesis Courses

Students who have taken and passed all three labs successfully, but choose to register in a second exegesis course, can opt out of taking the Lab 3 quiz again by working with the professor to identify other work using their Bible Software instead. This work should be accomplishable within the equivalent amount of time, i.e. 3h.

Quizzes

Students may take the required quiz/quizzes on Learning Hub as soon as they have learned the necessary knowledge and skills. The secretaries of the OT and NT departments will send to all professors an overview of their students' quiz grades about two weeks before the end of the semester. With this overview, the teaching faculty will be able to remind students who have not yet taken their required lab to complete the quizzes. At the end of final exam week at the end of the semester, the OT and NT department secretaries will again send a list that contains the final quiz scores of each enrolled student to the teaching faculty. This list will then be used to finalize the course grades.

The passing/failing score will be integrated into the grading of the Biblical Language / Exegesis course with the weight of 3% of the overall grade. The related work for each lab will take a maximum of 3 hours. This will consist of the following elements:

- 1.5 hours for the lab (here the student is taught how to use Bible Software)
- 1.5 hours (max) for practice work (here the student trains his/her skills and attempts passing the quiz)

The quizzes in Lab 2 will test the skills learned in both Lab 1 and Lab 2. The quizzes in Lab 3 will test the skills learned in Lab 1, Lab 2, and Lab 3. In other words, quizzes have an accumulative nature.

Students Who Test Out of Language Courses

Students who pass out of one or more language courses and will not have taken the Lab and Quiz associated with that course. When they register for an exegesis class, Lab 3 and its associated quiz will however assume the skills developed in Labs 1 and 2. These students, therefore, must take responsibility to ensure that they have the skills taught in Labs 1 and 2 (either privately or by taking the labs). The same procedure applies to students who were able to pass out of Hebrew I/Beginning Greek but have to take Hebrew II/intermediate Greek. In order to pass the Quiz for Lab 2, these students must take responsibility to ensure that they have learned the skills taught in Lab 1 (either privately or by participating in the labs).

Requirements for Taking Labs and Quizzes

Students must have Logos or Accordance loaded and running successfully on their computers BEFORE they participate in the lab. Students who have not yet received Accordance or Logos may begin their labs/quizzes on the computers in the commons which have Accordance.

Accessing the Labs and Quizzes on Moodle

All seminary students have access to the online Bible Software Labs for free as long as they are registered as seminary students. They can be accessed by logging in to learninghub.andrews.edu and scrolling down to the lab you need. The quizzes are at the bottom of each set of labs. Labs may be repeated as often desired in order to improve one's Bible Software skills. Students may also take the quizzes as many times as necessary to achieve the desired grade.
